

MONOGRAPH #1411

QUANTUM CARE R & D LLC

CAN AGING BE FUN?

No, it cannot. I'm sorry, that's just my opinion, of course. But to be serious, don't we all really want quality, over quantity? If you've ever visited an assisted care facility I'm sure you noticed it wasn't a happy place. And if you interviewed everyone and asked if they thought this is how they would "go out" so to speak, I'm sure everyone would say that they had no idea what was coming. A stroke or heart attack can change your life in an instant. But so many things that put us into that sometimes permanent downward spiral involving pain, suffering, depression, and finally death could have been avoided or corrected.

There are very specific events that start to take place years before

In this little monograph I would like to address one of the ROOT causes of aging. It is by no means the only one, of course. I'm speaking about absorption. As we age the percentage of vitamins, minerals, amino acids in our bodies decline.

Obviously, following a nutrient-dense diet will help greatly, but the fact still remains, our cells slowly starve to death.

There are many physical-level approaches that are all fantastic, but I have found that also adding in an Energy Medicine correction can have a huge impact. (next page)

SO IS LONGEVITY SOMETHING WE WANT?

There is a lot of emphasis placed on the aging process. No one ever talks about aging in a healthy way, they just look at the actual age of the person. No one wants to age badly, but is it avoidable? I'm sure you have seen someone who can barely function, using a walker, an oxygen tank, etc. and you find out they are 65 yrs. old. You then see a guy at the beach surfing who is 95. Does all this simply involve the luck of the draw? It does not. Chronic health issues come on slowly. If you ignore them, or, administer a protocol that is nothing more than a temporary stop gap, then you are going to have to deal with the inevitable consequences. What if we find the ROOT CAUSE and correct it?

The Biotheric disc called ABSORB can be used to balance out the energy field around the body and cells in such a way as to assist all the other physical interventions the person may be using. One of the evaluations I use is to simply scan your field after a meal and check for something called % B ("percent benefit") Then, take in one ounce of the imprinted water that you make yourself using the Biotheric ABSORB disc and re-check. The % B will always go up, sometimes significantly, indicating that you will receive more benefit from the meal you just consumed.

BOTTOM LINE

The next time you sit down to eat a meal, keep in mind that most of those life-sustaining nutrients you are about to eat are going to go in...and right back out. You now have a way to reprogram your entire digestive tract, your cells, even the Biotheric Field itself to better retain the wonderful frequencies nature has given us.

Take advantage of this wonderful opportunity. When was the last time you gave your Soul a gift?
